

Hello Year 3

Monday 22nd June to Friday 26th June

This week your tasks are linked to Geography, RE and Art.

In Art this week's task will encourage you to expand your knowledge of creating different shades of colour to represent light and shadows

In RE you are going to think about why religious people pray and if it is similar to talking about your problems to someone we trust.

For Geography you will be looking at human and physical features in the UK landscape

If you have any questions, please contact your class teacher on 2email in Purple Mash. And please send any completed work through your Purple Mash email.

Art

To create a silhouette sunset picture—light and dark colours

Look at how many shades of the same colour can be seen with various light/shade balance?

How many colours can you see? I can see three primary colours and many secondary colours such as orange and pink.

How can you create the multihued effect of a sunset?

To create this effect the artist added more white to the primary colour to make lots of shades of the same colour.

This type of picture is called silhouette art and has a dark shape placed in front of a bright background such as a sunset/sunrise.

Let's try and create our own sunset..

- To start you have to practice making different shades or hues of the same colour.
- So let's begin by making a colour wheel as shown in the picture (you can print a template from the internet or draw your own circle and divide it) and see how many shades you can get from one colour.

Now let's create a silhouette picture..

- Create your own sunset background using the colours you have made.
- Cut out any shape in black card/paper that you think would work as a shadow for the foreground of the picture and stick it on. Et voila! You have made a sunset silhouette picture!

Here are some examples to inspire you

Please remember to post a picture of your work on Purple Mash. We would love to see your works of art

RE

Why do religious people pray?

- Ask an adult if they talk to God/s or someone they feel will help them if they are having problems.
- Ask them if they feel talking like this is similar or different to praying.
- Inside a faith, prayer is often described as like a conversation or relationship with God/s.
- We talk to people we are closest to because they love us and look after us, which helps us to feel good. They don't grant magic wishes for us neither does God/s.
- Believers talk to God/s for the same reasons: this is called praying.
- If you were to talk to God/s what do you think you would say or ask?
- Write one thing they would like to ask/say to God/s onto a thought bubble.

'Why do we talk?'

- Can you think and write four reasons why we talk to others?
- For many religious believers, God is like their parents, best friend and big brother/sister all rolled into one. For religious people prayer is really about friendship, love and support.
- Is prayer and talking to those we love similar? Can you think of any reason why religious people want to pray?
